THE INDIANA REPUBLICAN PARTY

Jim Kittle, Jr.
State Chairman

“2004 was an amazing year for the Republican Party. It was a great team effort. But, moving on to 2005, this is no time to rest on our laurels. Our real mission is just beginning - to change Indiana for the better. It will require the teamwork of thousands of Republicans across the state to keep our Party and our state strong.

Working together, I am confident we will continue sharing in some very big victories. Let's get started!”

- Jim Kittle, The Indiana Republican Party Chairman

At the Indiana Republican Party, we remain focused on the fundamentals:

▪ Electing Republican Candidates:

In the end, party organizations must be judged by the elections they win. Thus, in 2005-2006, the State Party's mission remains focused on bringing positive change to Indiana through the election of Republican leaders who promote strong Republican principles. We are very proud of our victories in 2004. But now, our focus turns to 2006 where we will continue to promote the positive agenda of our incumbent candidates and look for new leaders who can help us expand on gains made in recent election years. In 2006, our key goals include:

- Reelecting U.S. Senator Richard Lugar
- Reelecting all seven incumbent Congressmen
- Reelecting Republican majorities in the State House
- Reelecting Todd Rokita and electing a State Auditor and State Treasurer
- Reelecting Marion County Prosecutor Carl Brizzi
- Electing and reelecting more Republican County Commissioners and other local officials up and down the ballot

At the Indiana Republican Party, we remain focused on the fundamentals:

■ The Four Fundamental Functions of a State Party:

Fundraising: Raising the funds necessary to execute the State Party's voter contact and candidate support programs.

Party-building/Grassroots Development: Strengthening our County Party organizations through increased services, training, and staffing of important "96 Hour" programs such as voter registration, voter identification, and voter turnout.

Technology: Researching and implementing technology to improve voter list quality and utility, thus providing a stronger product for County Parties and candidates and facilitating greater communication with contributors, volunteers, and voters.

Message Coordination: Communicating and coordinating the Republican message effectively to Party members, state and local media, and potential voters across Indiana.
